Thursday 11th March 2010

at

Clowance Estate and Country Club

Praze an Beeble, nr Camborne

All welcome!

From 10.00 am - 3 pm

Join Tim Scott-Ellis and the Great trees of Cornwall for a hunt for more Great trees in this historic estate. This is the first of a series of events intended for those interested in looking for trees in their own locality. Training will be given in identification and recording techniques. Meet in the visitor car park by the reception. You can buy lunch at the facility or bring your own. If you are unable to come to this day but have an idea for a future event in your locality please let us know.

To let us know that you intend to attend or for further information please email:

loveday.jenkin@nationaltrust.org.uk or ring 01208 265276 / 07817866105 with your name, address, email and telephone numbers

Clowance is very easily reached by car via A30 to Camborne. Take the Camborne West exit. At the top of the slip road turn left to the roundabout turning left again into Camborne. Follow this road for 1.5 miles to the second mini island and turn right, follow this road for about 500 yards to the next mini island opposite the police station, turn right again onto the road towards Helston (signposted B3303 Praze-an-Beeble 3 miles). Follow this road through the village of Praze-an-Beeble, the Clowance Estate is then located half a mile out of the village on the right hand side. Enter the estate and follow signs for reception and main car park.
